

Indiv. Teacher Report for POL 220: American Politics – B. Hammond – 2018-2019 Fall

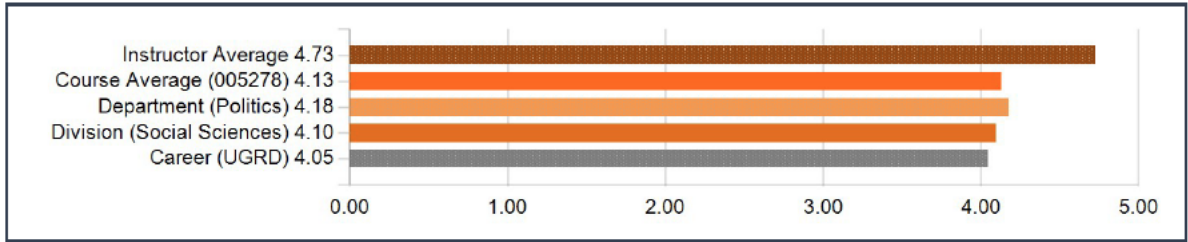

POL 220: Precept 04

I think that the overall quality of the precepts was:

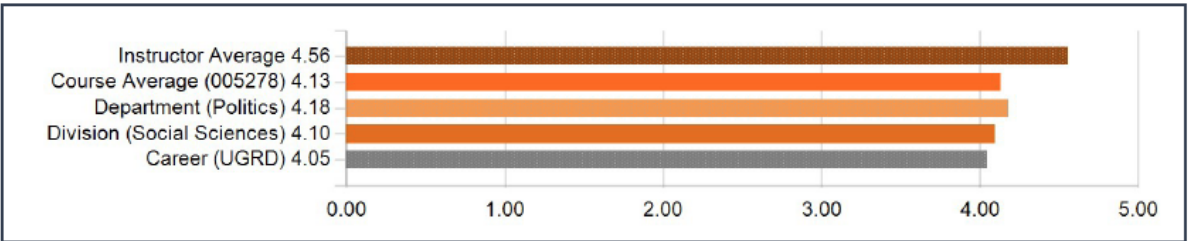

POL 220: Precept 05

I think that the overall quality of the precepts was:

POL 220: Precept 09

I think that the overall quality of the precepts was:

Precepts – Please comment on the quality of the precepts. How did they contribute to your learning in the course? To what extent did the preceptor raise challenging questions, help clarify course material, and encourage broad student participation? Was the preceptor responsive to students’ questions, opinions, and criticism?

POL 220: Precept 04

Comments
Precepts were great, helped clarify material and really encouraged participation.
Precepts were amazing with Ben. It was such a laid-back and friendly atmosphere but at the same time so informative. I definitely learned a lot more in precept than I did in lecture. Ben is very responsive to any questions and wants to make sure we fully understand the material and do well in the class.
Ben was a great, kind preceptor and I always enjoyed going to precept. It was great to engage with him and some of the other students who presented interesting thoughts to discuss.
Precept was incredible, Ben is extremely intelligent and keep precepts precise and provided informative discussion and welcomed all to share their thoughts.
The precepts were very good in understanding what was talked about in lectures.
This precept was GREAT. Ben was just incredibly helpful at understanding the readings and the concept in an easy way. I enjoyed every session.
Ben was one of the best preceptors I've had at Princeton. I'm quite glad I was in his course Precepts were excellent. Ben did a great job of engaging students and their responses, coordinating the class, setting expectations, and helping students understand the material in an engaging manner. One of the best precepts I have had at Princeton thus far.

POL 220: Precept 05

Comments
Precepts were the best part of this course. Ben was an awesome teacher, and in all honesty I think I might've learned more from him than I did in lecture. He answered questions patiently and made sure that we understood every aspect of the course
Ben was a great preceptor and I think he helped me understand the material much better than I did before precept.
BEST PRECEPT EVER. Ben made everything so clear and was so helpful during office hours and precept about clarifying things and making sure everyone knew the main points of each reading.
The preceptor was great at reinforcing the important topics from lecture and answering questions. He made the readings more straight-forward and less boring.
Precepts were very good and very informative. Ben was incredibly helpful and clear.
I thought he did a great job of explaining the more difficult theories from class and did a good job of keeping everyone engaged.
Ben Hammond is the best preceptor I have had at Princeton. He is the reason why I feel like I learned a ton about American politics, and he explained everything as clearly as possible. He ALWAYS made himself available for extra help, and it was so clear that he wanted his students to succeed. He helped students in any way possible and explained material so so well.
My preceptor was amazing. I loved this course because of him.
Precept was great. Ben provided extremely helpful summaries of the information covered and still provided opportunity for discussion.

POL 220: Precept 09

Comments
The precepts were great! My preceptor was very knowledgeable and did a great job of explaining everything and making sure we understood difficult concepts. This was the best part of the class!
Very good preceptor! Bravo!
Ben was an excellent preceptor! He was really approachable and was great at leading discussions.
I thought Ben did a great job. Precept was interesting, engaging, and helped clarify the material. Ben also invited questions from students and answered them thoughtfully.
very good space to get questions answered