

POL 329: Precept 04

I think that the overall quality of the precepts was:

POL 329: Precept 06A

I think that the overall quality of the precepts was:

Precepts – Please comment on the quality of the precepts. How did they contribute to your learning in the course? To what extent did the preceptor raise challenging questions, help clarify course material, and encourage broad student participation? Was the preceptor responsive to students’ questions, opinions, and criticism?

POL 329: Precept 04

Comments
I thought the precepts were great. My preceptor was excellent in leading discussions, and helping all students understand the material.
Hands down one of the best preceptors at this institution. His love for teaching and general openness to students made the class all the more understandable.
Absolutely loved Ben as my preceptor. So helpful and responsive and very kind when it came to personal problems and assignments and other things. Best preceptor I've had at Princeton.
Ben was incredible, precepts were the best part of the course.
Ben is a fantastic preceptor and was one of my favorite teachers all year. He is very smart and funny and brings great energy to precept. His experience working on the Hill allows him to add interesting anecdotes about certain things we discuss.
Ben worked on Capitol Hill for many years so he has great insight and teaches everything clearly
Ben was an amazing preceptor. He never called anyone out of their comfort zone and made sure each student understood the material before moving on. He is also very accommodating and will meet with his students anytime during the day. He encouraged student participation and made this class so much better.
The precept was excellent. Ben is a great preceptor and understands the student's problems. He helps whenever he can and is very friendly.

POL 329: Precept 06a

Comments

He was an amazing preceptor.

Ben was great. He explained content and concepts very clearly and was able to make the precepts super interesting with his stories from his experiences. He was very engaging and made the class very enjoyable. He was very clear with the expectation of the course and flexible in submission of work which reduced stress.

Precepts were great. Ben is the greatest of all time.